Beschreibung

"Un sogno a tre for flute, viola and harp was written in 1990 for a trio of young instrumentalists and first performed in the USA. In the enigmatic words of the composer (who died in October 2012): "the piece has no beginning, no middle and no end ... simply three musicians telling each other something and dreaming a little ... sound is arising and that is enough ...". Pitch and rhythm are strictly organized, but dramatic development has been consciously avoided. Yet, such is the composer's mastery of her craft that an overall sense of structural unity is never in doubt. An essential addition to the chamber trio repertoire."
