This multi-international duo works as a unit and has a knack for writing great hooks and bringing a multitude of different flavors to the table. They blend alternative rock with a bit of grunge and a lot of melodic pop, adding in emotional vocals to bring their sound to a poetic level. The band bristles with elegant, melodic aggression, potent roaring guitar and a soulful siren call.

With the mixture of the sultry voice of Yvonne Lace, and killer riffs from guitarist Jason De Cordoba, I predict Siren Call will one day play an enormous part in rock history. They deliver a refreshing style of music, that us die hard rock-and-roll fans have been waiting for, for a very long time.

Very good female fronted rock band, they have that cool alternative rock grunge vibe with some cool melodic tracks to match. Vocally fantastic, Lyrically great and the music is superb.

Siren Call is fresh, modern and one day will be massive. A hybrid of rock, pop and alternative. Spectacular vocals, great production, good instrumentation and overall song composition. Lyrical content is strong as well. Beautiful sound for the backdrop of a major motion picture. Lead vocalist adds a dash of jensequa. This ensemble's talent, creativity and marketability has landed them a spot on our #360WatchList.
